OUR GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Balanced Continuum of Services

We believe that public safety is best served by promoting the development of a balanced continuum of juvenile justice services that include prevention, intervention, probation, commitment and aftercare.

Ethical and Professional Standards

We believe that all youth deserve services that are delivered in a manner that meets the highest professional and ethical standards.

The Right Services the First Time

We believe that all placement decisions should be individualized and based on the results of a comprehensive evaluation utilizing defined assessment protocols.

Policies and Services Research Based

We advocate for sound legislation and Department policies/procedures that are based on research and that contribute to and supports effective juvenile justice services.

Kids are Different than Adults

We recognize that the needs of children and adolescents are different than adults and we advocate for a responsive justice system that translate into effective policies, programs, and services.

Blend Public Safety and Treatment

We believe that programming is most effective when there is a balance between treatment and public safety considerations and we advocate for the least restrictive care to change lives and protect the public.

Access to Specialty Services

We believe that all youth in need of specialty services such as mental health and substance abuse must receive these services as part of the juvenile justice intervention.

Academic and Vocational Education are the Keys to Success

We understand that education is a key ingredient of a youth's success and advocate for dynamic and individualized educational and vocational services geared to the learning level of the youth served.

Adequate Funding for Quality Services

We understand that effective programming and successful public safety initiatives and the development of a professional workforce can only be achieved with adequate funding.

ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE: 1996-2010

System Improvements – 2006-2010

FJJA continues to identify cost saving solutions and systemic improvements to further strengthen the juvenile justice system. We work in partnership with DJJ, the Florida Legislature, community stakeholders, partners and providers.

Blueprint Commission 2006-2008

Advocated for a “blueprint commission” to review juvenile justice services as well as making recommendations for improvement.

Rate Study – 2006-2007

In partnership with the Department, the Association assisted in two comprehensive rate studies to define the true costs of IDDS, conditional release, day treatment, and residential services. Bearing Point completed the Probation and Community Service study in December of 2006. The Residential Services report was completed in January of 2007.

Rate Enhancement Campaign – 2005-2006

Developed and implemented a planned strategy to secure from the legislature the resources necessary to effectively serve youth in provider care and to build and retain a competent workforce. Successful in securing resources, $5.5 million in 2005 and $21 million in 2006, to enhance funding across the continuum.

Certification for Provider Staff – 2006

Co-chaired a legislative task force designed to determine the feasibility of developing a certification system for provider staff. Defined the classes to be included in a certification system and the mechanics of how such a system could be implemented based on funding.

Sexual Offender Review – 2006

Promoted legislature to review how juveniles who commit sexual offenses are handled in the juvenile justice system. Chaired a task force that made recommendations to the legislature on how to classify, assess and serve juveniles who commit a sexual offense.

Protective Action Response (PAR) – 2004

Pursued changes in PAR that reduced injury to youth and staff. Results include elimination of backward and forward roll; elimination of hammer, wrist/shoulder lock; PAR testing on-site; expanded test time and more opportunities to take the test; course broken down into sections by need to know; and a menu of techniques allowing provider choice.

Hurricane Relief – 2004 & 2005

Assisted providers in their efforts to seek financial relief from the costs incurred by the four storms. Coordinated application efforts with FEMA and documented the fiscal impact of the four storms on the provider community.

Rate Adjustments – 2002-2004

Successful advocacy for modest rate adjustments to address the ever-rising costs of service delivery was accomplished by the Association. Adjustments to date include $5.7 million for residential services ($1.2 million in 2002, $900,000 in 2003, $3.6 million in 2004) and $400,000 for IDDS in 2004.

Juvenile Justice Education – 1999, 2000, 2004, 2006

The Association played a leadership role in making the legislature aware of inequities in education for juvenile justice students. Three pieces of legislation were promoted and passed in 1999, 2000, and 2004 that resulted in more funding in the classroom, qualified teachers, district accountability, GED exit option, comprehensive assessment protocols, and the legislative defining of the basic parameters of juvenile justice education.

Preserved the Continuum – 2001-2003

The Association aggressively fought to prevent cuts to front-end services (CINS/FINS, PACE, Day Treatment) during the 2001, 2002 and 2003 legislative sessions. All three services were preserved as part of the juvenile justice continuum.

Defining Specialty Care – 2002

Worked with the Department to define levels of specialty care and ensuring programming: care and custody; overlay; specialty; intensive and comprehensive. As a result, youth are provided in-depth mental health, substance abuse and sex offender services as their clinical diagnoses dictate.

Quality Assurance Challenge Process – 2002

The Association initiated discussion with the Department of Juvenile Justice on the need for a QA challenge process. Such a process was implemented in 2002.

Rate Study – 2001

Working with the Department, a comprehensive rate study defining the true cost of residential services was conducted. This study establishes a model rate for service delivery across all levels of residential care and all specialty services.

Food Buyers Group – 2001

Established a food buyers group with a minority vendor allowing providers to both purchase food and chemicals at reduced costs while receiving CMBE credits for each purchase. This has helped both the providers and the Department of Juvenile Justice to meet their minority participation targets.

Behavioral Health Overlay Services (BHOS) 1997

The Association was one of the primary authors of this unique financing program for substance abuse and mental health overlay services in juvenile justice residential programs. Presently, 1,800 BHOS overlay slots are available serving 4,200 youth annually.

Specialty Services – 1996

The Association advocated and lobbied for specialized funding to offer mental health, sex offender and substance abuse services to youth in state custody. Although no such beds were requested by the agency, the Association was able to secure funding for 233 specialty beds in 1997. Today 1,500 specialty beds are operational.

Co-Sponsors of the Annual Adolescent Treatment Issues Conference

The annual conference provides a high level training event presenting the latest evidence based research and clinical interventions found effective when treating at-risk or delinquent youth.
